What:

Crossroads Bible Church 's Career Transition Network, one of the Dallas area's first church-based groups to help people searching for employment, is hosting another free Career Transition Workshop.

Human Resource professionals specialized in recruitment and staffing will teach advanced skills, techniques and secrets for job-hunting strategies:

- Utilizing the Internet in your job search
- Job search strategies
- Resume writing
- Networking
- Interviewing
- Negotiating techniques

The workshop is for those who are un-employed, under-employed or just seeking new employment. Many participants have taken the workshop more than once because of the encouragement it provides. We open the workshop with a time of prayerful support and encouragement from God's Word, the Bible. People get to know one another and exchange information about possible employment. We also connect people via the Internet to a wide variety of local job leads.

- Dress code is casual. It's a cell phone friendly environment so you won't miss that important call.
- Bring a resume - recruiters are on site to review and make suggestions.
- Bring business cards for networking with others if you have them.
- The workshop is free, continental breakfast and lunch is included along with a workbook.
